

Celebrating languages, connecting communities

Community Language School

Languages open doors.

Learning more than one language can boost children's confidence, and build empathy and curiosity.

Our fun, interactive and creative classes foster a love for language learning, whether your child is strengthening their home language or exploring a new one!

Our FREE classes introduce children to:

- Japanese
- Mandarin Chinese
- Italian
- Spanish

Led by an academic committee with expertise in language learning, teaching and teacher training, York St John University's Community Language School is Yorkshire's first Saturday school to offer classes in multiple languages –
